'Sound of Music' Closes Long Beach CLO Season

The melodious "Sound of Music" will be heard in Long Beach Municipal Auditorium July 11 when the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical begins a 10-performance, two-week-end run.

Co-starring Glenellen Cooper as Maria and Marvin Cloyd as Captain von Trapp, the Long Beach Civic Light Opera production is being presented in six evenings and four matinee performances.

"The Sound of Music" probably has more memorable songs than any Rodgers and Hammerstein hit since "South Pacific." Besides the title tune, the show's score includes "Climb Every Mountain," "My Favorite Things," "Do Re Mi," "Edelweiss," "The Lonely Goatherd," "You Are Sixteen," "So Long, Farewell" and "How Do You Solve a Problem Like Maria?"

"The Sound of Music" closes Long Beach CLO's 20th season. James Brittain is the director, Cris Timmons the choreographer, Jack Kroesen the musical director.

Performances are scheduled for July 11, 12, 13, 18, 19 and 20 at 8:30 p.m. and July 13, 4, 20 and 2 at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are on sale at the Civic Light Opera box office, 518 E. 4th St., Long Beach. Phone 432-7926.

Dow Opens New Plant Facility

A new distribution services office building has been completed at The Dow Chemical Company's plant a 305 Crenshaw Blvd.

The 2,600 square foot building will provide quarters for the plant's shipping and production scheduling staffs, as well as offices for the plant's field foremen and other administrative personnel.

The new building also houses the plant's computer equipment and teletype communications facilities which link it with other Dow plants and offices throughout the country.

Be Aware of Your Lights Or Risk a Citation--CHP

Many Californians are driving cars with illegal lights, not knowing they are violating the law.

"Most of the illegal lights are on sports cars, and are not part of the original equipment," according to Captain P. J. Ford of the California Highway Patrol.

"Mail purchases account for most of these illegal driving and fog lamps, but some are on cars being sold as used vehicle or on cars originally registered in another state."

Some of the lights are illegal because they are designed for racing and, therefore, have a higher light output than is allowed by California law on passenger cars. Others are manufactured to European standards, which are different from American standards.

"Driving or fog lights bought from established dealers in California will probably be legal because parts suppliers know how to determine that their lights meet regulations," Captain Ford said. "If you think the lights on your car may be illegal, come in to the Patrol office and we will check them out."

July Fourth Festivities Planned at City Parks

Torrance residents will hear the message of the bells tomorrow when the Torrance Recreation Department observes the national ringing of "Bells on Independence Day."

This nationwide observance was declared in Congress in June, 1963, to remind America of its freedom; how hard it was won, and how easily it can be lost.

The ceremony will take place at all Torrance parks at 11 a.m. Thursday. Church bells, school bells, fire bells and a variety of other bells also will be heard throughout Torrance at the same time.

The public is invited to visit the nearest park and participate in the Independence Day activities. All parks will be supervised from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Everyone is asked to bring a bell of any type and join in the ringing ceremony at 11 a.m. Following the bell ringing, some activities including sack races, balloon busting, and running races are planned.

Playgrounds will not be supervised July 4.

Senior Citizens Chart Plans for Potluck Social

A potluck luncheon followed by a social hour of singing, dancing, and cards is planned by the Torrance Senior Citizens Association for Friday, July 12. The event will begin at 12 noon.

Those attending are asked to bring a favorite dish and a table setting.

Senior citizen social hours are held every Friday from 12 noon to 5 p.m.

Chapel Does Life Of Thomas More

Chapel Theater's production of "A Man for All Seasons" was highlighted and, to some degree, saved by the excellent performance of Paul Teschke in the role of Thomas More.

Teschke did an outstanding job in portraying England's most famous conscientious objector, a part which called for controlling the play's tempo. Matt Bond also performed well, cast as the Common Man and faced with the task of portraying a half-dozen characters which included housekeeper, boatman, attendant, jury foreman, jailer, and executioner.

Area Girl Mayor at Girls State

Linda Alice Wilson, 2331 W. 248th St., has been elected mayor of the mythical city of Carson at the 25th Anniversary session of California Girls State this week at the University of California, Davis campus. She is one of 560 girls participating in this week-long, national youth-in-government program sponsored annually by the American Legion Auxiliary, in which all states participate. The program in California is under the direction of Mrs. Leon Farrand of North Hollywood.

Linda, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy M. Wilson, is a representative of Torrance High School, where she will be a senior next fall. She is sponsored by Bert S. Crossland Unit No. 170, of the American Legion Auxiliary, District 19.

Channel 28 To Review Chapel Play

KCFE's Channel 28 "Theater Beat" host Hal Marienthal has invited two guests from Chapel Theatre to review scenes from their "A Man for All Seasons" tomorrow at 9 p.m.

Beatrice Cherkas, Chapel producer, and Milton Rogart, director, will discuss the community production of the award-winning drama.

The famous play—authored by Robert Bolt—deals with the courageous, strife-ridden life of Sir Thomas More in medieval England.

Robert Bolt's historical drama has become a modern classic, and Milton Rogart's direction of the work did it justice.

A slow moving first act was mainly the result of opening-night pauses for forgotten lines, distracting attempts at overdone accents and an apparent confusion with stage blocking.

This was compensated for with a strong, climatic final act, in which the players seemed more at ease and lines came with more fluidity. As a result of the faster pace, however, many of Bolt's biting puns and satirical dialogue were lost to the audience.

George Pugsley was outstanding in his two roles as Cardinal Wolsey and King Henry VIII; he did both parts, which were totally different both in speech and manner, with such skill that his dual performance went unnoticed until I checked the program. The scenery and costumes were convincing and represented the period well. Phyllis Palmer and Mabel Montelone designed the sets and costumes. The scenery design was functional; so much so that all the stagehand chores were handled by the Common Man, who moved the set as he delivered his lines.

Cheers to Chapel Theater, a group of strictly non-professionals, for doing a thoroughly adequate performance of a highly professional drama.
